Kathryn Roszak is the Director of Danse Lumière, based in Berkeley. She trained as a dancer at San Francisco Ballet and the School of American Ballet in New York. She performed with the San Francisco Opera Ballet, and now creates her own contemporary choreography, which has been presented and performed internationally. Ms. Roszak has worked extensively in theater, including coaching opera singer Joyce DiDonato and Broadway stars Jean Stapleton and Anika Noni Rose in movement. She is an instructor at the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at UC Berkeley, an enrichment lecturer for Cal Discoveries tours, and directs the Dance on Center program for Children and Teens.
